

COLLEEN JONES

Education:

USA&M Advanced Mediator Training, 2013; St. Louis University School of Law 1986; St. Mary's College, BA, 1982; University of Missouri - Columbia Mediator Training, 2013.

Accomplishments:

Ms. Jones has been engaged in a litigation practice in St. Louis and surrounding areas, as well as Illinois, for more than 25 years. The majority of her practice has been all types of personal injury including auto, premises liability, products liability, trucking cases, medical malpractice and wrongful death. She has also handled employment claims, complex commercial litigation and title insurance. Ms. Jones has worked for both plaintiff and defense. She is practicing with the firm Cook, Ysursa, Bartholomew, Brauer & Shevlin, Ltd.

Affiliations:

Missouri Bar; Illinois Bar; Adjunct Professor of Law Washington University and Saint Louis University School of Law Trial Advocacy Program; Pro Bono Limited Representation Attorney for the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri; Mediator, USA&M.