

COLLEEN JONES

Education:

USA&M Advanced Mediator Training, 2013; St. Louis University School of Law 1986; St. Mary's College, BA, 1982; University of Missouri - Columbia Mediator Training, 2013.

Accomplishments:

Colleen Jones has been engaged in a litigation practice in St. Louis and surrounding areas, as well as Illinois, for more than 35 years. The majority of her practice has been a variety of personal injury; including auto, premises liability, products liability, trucking cases, medical malpractice and wrongful death. She has also handled employment claims, complex commercial litigation, and title insurance. Ms. Jones has represented both plaintiffs and defendants during her career and is a partner at Cook, Bartholomew, Cook & Jones in Belleville Illinois.

Affiliations:

Missouri Bar; Illinois Bar; Adjunct Professor of Law Washington University and Saint Louis University School of Law Trial Advocacy Program; Pro Bono Limited Representation Attorney for the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Missouri; Mediator, USA&M.